Artificial Human Eyes,
Adjusted without pain, by Dr. Spencer, Dentist, 254 Penn street.

Letter from A. Follin, M. D.
No. 99 Rampart Street, New Orleans.
To the Editor of the Picayune:
Sir—I consider it my duty to communicate to the public some facts on a subject which I deem of the greatest general importance.
Six years ago, when I was practising my profession in New York, my lungs became affected by frequent colds; there was constant irritation and debility, which acted on my general system so much that my appetite and general strength failed, and I was rapidly sinking into a condition from which I knew too well the ordinary practice of medicine could never extricate me.
Dr. Hunter was then actively discussing his views on the proper treatment of all affections of the respiratory organs, and I was so fully impressed with their scientific correctness that I went at once to consult him in my own case. He examined me thoroughly, and after making a careful diagnosis of my case, prescribed for me such medicines as he wished me to inhale through the admirable instrument he has contrived.
I followed Dr. Hunter's advice correctly, and in the course of a month I was rewarded by finding the irritation of my lungs allayed, and a strength and tone imparted to them which they had not before. I still continued for several months, however, to inhale his prescriptions, and found continued improvement and strength as the result. The obstructions of my lungs being thus removed, the blood became vitalized, my appetite increased, and my health became perfect.
Although it is now six years since I had the happiness of making Dr. Hunter's acquaintance, I feel that my present excellent health is mainly due to his scientific treatment, and, with this conviction, I cheerfully volunteer a statement of the facts, as they may prove useful to some less favored man. I have no hesitation in pronouncing Dr. Hunter's practice the only rational and successful method of reaching the lungs. And having myself experienced its happy effects, I would recommend it to all who are in any manner suffering in the organs of respiration.

HARRISBURG, April 5, 1867.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THE CONSOLIDATION PASSED FINALLY.

Mr. Colville called up the Consolidation bill.

Mr. Chadwick offered an amendment, dividing the middle district, as provided in the bill, into two districts, making the city of Pittsburgh one, and the boroughs and townships between the rivers the other, in submitting the question to a vote.

Mr. Colville opposed the amendment, as the bill had agreed upon by committees from ... eny county.

Mr. Wi... id he was always in favor of consolidation, but thought Mr. Chadwick's amendment proper, inasmuch as it would give the people between the rivers a chance to decide upon the question; but he would not endanger a project he was so much interested in, by opposing it on such ground. Therefore, he would support the bill on the ground that the act would place the city of Pittsburgh in the position that her great wealth and population entitled her to. Instead of having her annual products appear in the statistics by tens of thousands, as had been the case, she would appear in her proper position, counting her resources by hundreds of thousands.

Mr. Chadwick's amendment was voted down, and the bill passed, without a division, as it came from the Senate.

To increase the compensation of Assessors of Allegheny county.

CALIFORNIA VETERANS.

Mr. COLE presented a petition from the Veteran Corps of California. He said they served two years, and during that time were successful in their contest with various Indian tribes, subduing the Apaches and Camanches in New Mexico. He now asked they be allowed the same rate of transportation given to other discharged soldiers to cover their expenses. The petition was referred to the Committee of Military Affairs.

NEW YORK, April 5.—At a meeting of the New York Methodist Conference to-day, Bishop Janes, in propounding questions to candidates for membership, advised that changes of public sentiment must be noted. JUDGE SHARKEY PRESENTS THE BILL OF COMPLAINT.
Gen. Rosseau Confirmed Brigadier General.
NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED AND REJECTED.
The Austrian Ministry Again.
CALIFORNIA AND RUSSIAN AMERICA.
Ratification of the Treaty Urged.

WASHINGTON, April 5, 1867.

RECONSTRUCTION IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Judge Sharkey and Hon. Robert J. Walker appeared in the Supreme Court this morning on behalf of the State of Mississippi. The former rose to submit a bill of complaint and prayer that President Johnson, and his officers and agents, and especially General Ord, be perpetually enjoined and restrained from executing the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, and the act supplementary thereto, and powers of injunction and subpœnas be directed to the parties aforesaid, with any other relief that the Court may deem proper.

Judge Sharkey remarked that the bill had been printed.

Attorney General Stansberry said he believed it was the general practice to obtain the leave of the Court to file a bill. This bill was against the United States, and he desired to appear at the earliest possible moment to object to it. He repeated there must be a motion to file a bill, in the regular way.

Judge Sharkey replied that was the motion which he now made. He was aware of the magnitude of the subject, involving, as it does, the important and delicate question of the constitutionality of congressional legislation. It was of great moment that an early decision should be arrived at, as much mischief might result by delay.

Chief Justice Chase to Judge Sharkey—You can only now move to file the bill, and it will be in order to discuss it the next meeting day.

Attorney General Stanberry—I am ready now to resist the granting of leave.

Chief Justice Chase—I don't propose to hear the argument on the motion out of the regular order. The motion will be filed.

Judge Sharkey—I will now file the application.

This he did, and the question went over until next motion day, Friday next.

CALIFORNIA AND THE RUSSIAN TREATY.

The following telegram was received yesterday:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5, 1867.

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, secretary of War:

I learn from a gentlemen who has recently visited many parts of Russian America that its value is greater than supposed. The rejection of the treaty would create great dissatisfaction, especially in California.

[Signed] H. W. Halleck, Maj. General.

A letter from Quartermaster General Meigs expresses surprise that objections are made to the acquisition of Russian America. He says:

"I can conceive of no greater boon to our Pacific States. I should value Russian Americas, its fisheries and mines, beyond the hot plains of Mexico or fertile plantations of Cuba. I trust no offers needed to secure this great acquisition will be omitted."

A letter from Commodore John Rogers, says, he thinks the Russian-American acquisition would be valuable, and if worth anything the price would be a bagatelle.

Another Bloody Revolution—Streets of Port Au Prince Strewn With Dead.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The Herald's Havana correspondence of March 30, says: An informed by passengers on board of the steamer Barcelona, that a revolution in Hayti which broke out in the city of the same is bloody kind. The loss on the part of the Revolutionists was very heavy, and the streets of Port au Prince were literary covered with the dead.

This is the fifth attempt to put down Geffard's Government, and is at last successful so far as Geffard is concerned.

The Tribune's Havana correspondence, of the same date, says Geffard succeeded in getting in the harbor of Port au Prince, after a desperate engagement, in which many lives were lost, the rebels being terribly cut up by the shells from the batteries of Geffard's partizans. The streets of Port Au Prince, were strewn with the dead bodies.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The Dry Goods market is fairly active for cotton goods, and the prices are quiet and firm for standard Sheetings, some styles seconds, such as Atlantic H, and Amoskeag A, selling at an advance of ½ cent. but for lighter makes in medium and light weights a concession of ¼ cent. is yielded on the same styles, such as Indian and Orchard. Brown's Bleached Muslins, of the best makes, are firm and in request at full prices, but poorer grades being unsettled, owing to a slight reduction in the scale of equalization. Changes in general, however, are very slight, indicating a very steady market. Prints in good request at full prices. Print Cloths are weak and can be bought at 15¾.

A Revolting Case of Cruelty.

The following details, which have just come to light, exhibit in every feature a refined system of exquisite torture that rivalls the ages of Pagan persecution. On Prince street, New York, there is an asylum for orphans and destitute children, under the care of the Sisters of Charity, where girls are maintained from childhood till they are able to fulfill a situation in life and to for themselves. One little girl named Mary Ann Farrell, thirteen years old, was taken from this house on the 9th of May last by a Mr. Vanderbilt, residing in Fordham, about six miles from Hackensack, to perform general housework. Some months after the new home began to prove uncomfortable for the girl, and she received very bad treatment, which she could not discuss to any one, being locked up if she desired to go out. The poor creature was at times stripped naked, tied up by the wrists, and in this manner she states positively, was flashed with a whip by Mr. Vanderbilt, till the tender flesh was completely mangled. Horrible as this may seem, the torture to which one was subjected afterwards were more acute. Mrs. Vanderbilt, who had been a professor of the Bloody Code, explained, according to the girl's statement, what she understood to be a pickle dipped in salt, to the bleeding wounds, which inflicted the most intense agony. Last Wednesday the girl expected to be placed as usual on the rack, and, watching an opportunity providentially vouchsafed to her, she made her escape, and took refuge for the night under the shade of some carts where she was picked up in a prostrate and fainting condition. She then related the horrible details of the cruelties inflicted on her, which so aroused the indignation of the hearers that a resolution was formed to proceed to Vanderbilt's house and lynch him forth with, "unshrived and unanealed," but the execution of the plan was frustrated by the Roman Catholic pastor of Hackensack, who then denied pronounce the individuals connected with it. The girl's statement is borne out to the letter by the revolting appearance she presented. Her head is covered with small lumps, her teeth displaced, the white of her eyes hardly discernible, the face swollen and deformed, the lips evile, and the remainder of her body one mass of scars. Her underclothing, which had not been changed for a long time, was thoroughly saturated with blood and purulent matter. She is now under medical treatment, but her condition is likely to be hopeless. She is a handsome and interesting, and fine in character in the asylum where she had been for eight years. Vanderbilt and his wife were arrested by order of Justice Breckel, and the case will come before the Grand Jury at Hackensack this morning.—New York paper.

Leonard Huyck, bank President, in durance at New York, has been released on bail by order of the Government, it appearing that the evidence against him is not sufficient to justify his further detention. His bail was reduced from $250,000 to $1,000.

Arrest of a Professional Shop-Lifter—Her Operations in Pittsburgh—Stolen Jewelry and other Goods Recovered.

Yesterday at noon, a young man employed as clerk in Richardson's jewelry establishment visited the Mayor's office, and stated that he had reason to believe a female shop-lifter had been operating upon the stock of that establishment. He stated that a valuable gold chain belonging to Richardson & Co., and which was among the stock but a few minutes previously, had been found upon the floor of McFadden's jewelry house, next door. As the chain had evidently been dropped by the thief, he imagined that a skillful detective might work up the case, more especially since the lady suspected was looking through the stock of the store of McFadden & Co. The clerk refused to make an information, but, in the absence of regularly qualified officers, an "attache of the Mayor's office" volunteered to act in the capacity of a detective. He visited the store of Richardson & Co., and shadowed after a desperate engagement, in which many lives were lost, the rebels being terribly cut up by last from Cleveland. Doubtless it contains stolen goods in large quantities—the fruits of her visit to the western cities. She is about twenty-five years of age, and is evidently a woman of refinement and considerable education. We may add that we understand she is a sister of Dan Scott, who got into serious trouble in this city some five or six years ago, forfeiting his (deposited funds) rather than appear for trial.

Temperance—Dedication of Mozart Hall.

Not many months ago a few gentlemen, prominent for their zeal in the good cause of temperance, established in this city a division of the Sons of Temperance, numbering it "42." Gradually the membership increased, till to-day the roll numbers hundreds of our respected and influential citizens, and the division is as rich and powerful as any in the State. A few months ago we noticed that the members, finding their old quarters too contracted for the large meetings held, leased the magnificent public building known as Mozart Hall, on seventh Street and set about to make it a worthy and attractive place of resort and meeting. A committee of tasteful and experienced gentlemen was appointed to superintend the furnishing and interior arrangements of the hall, and they were unlimited in procuring appropriations, so that the "temperance" hall be made worthy the cause to which it was destined to be dedicated. The gentlemen assigned to this important task pursued their labors in the most satisfactory manner, and the formal opening of the hall took place last evening. We will not endeavor to describe the interior of the hall, as we could not do full justice to its elegance and grandeur. It is, without exception, the neatest and richest lodge room in the city, and we doubt whether a temperance hall can be found in this country which will do quite as much credit to the cause. The floors are carpeted with the richest of Brussels, the windows are hanged gorgeously with the most costly of curtains, the ceiling is frescoed in dazzling colors, the walls are painted in neat style, and, in short, everything in and about the hall is of the most tasteful style and workmanship. It is a credit to the city and to the ladies and gentlemen who compose the division.

There assembled last evening upon the occasion of the opening a large and brilliant gathering of ladies and gentlemen. The exercises were pleasing and the best of music was in attendance. One of pleasing features of the evening was the presentation of a richly illustrated and elegantly bound full set of the works of William Shakespeare to J. D. Bailey, Esq., D. D. G. W. P., as a token of the esteem of the members and their appreciation of his earnest labors for and fidelity to the great cause of Temperance. Capt. C. W. McEneny made the presentation in a brief and pertinent speech, and Mr. Bailey responded in the happiest style. Thus ended the evening's entertainment

SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 1867.

A MOTION was made yesterday in the Supreme Court of the United States, on behalf of the State of Mississippi, for an injunction to restrain the enforcement of the Military Government Act. Attorney General STANBERRY appeared to resist the motion. The petition was filed, and the hearing went over to next Friday.

PRUSSIA.

Last summer Prussia made war upon Austria, under deceitful and flimsy pretexts, but really to consolidate Germany into one nationality. Never was a campain conducted with more celerity, or with larger promises of complete success. Europe was astonished, for out of comparative weakness no blossoming of power was anticipated. France was appalled, as if a giant hand was uplifted to push her from pre-eminence. The moment was critical. Dangers of interference from without pressed upon Prussia; but she was regulated by such admirable self-control she knew when to advance and when to recede. In sight of Vienna, with her grasp almost on the coveted prize, she turned back, wisely resolved to keep what she could, rather than risk all in prematurely endeavoring to consummate her designs.

It will be remembered that upon the conclusion of peace the Germanic States were organized into two Confederacies, one Northern and the other Southern. The idea conveyed to the public at the time was that the former would fall under the influence of Prussia; the latter of Austria. A month or two ago France received an additional shock in the announcement that some of the States of this Southern Confederacy had put their armies under the leadership of Prussia. The impression was that this was a new arrangement, in contravention of the spirit, if not of the letter, of the treaty of peace. It now appears these negotiations were perfected at the very moment when France supposed the Southern States were secured to Austria, and kept secret through prudential considerations.

Quite recently France has acquired some sort of title to the duchy of Luxembourg. In consequence Prussia has made the grand revelation that for the last six months all the Germanic territory from the frontiers of the Swiss Confederation to those of Austria, Holland, Belgium and France, has belonged to her, and also Luxembourg and Limberg. Of these treaties France remained in profound ignorance until this disclosure.

What must be especially mortifying to French pride is the cool irony with which the German newspapers assert all these arrangements have been entered into in vindication of the principle of nationalities of which France has been the boasted and arrogant champion. What may yet result from these revelations can hardly be conjectured.

THE Board of Trade of Charleston, S. C., held a banquet on the 3d instant, at which Governor ORR made a speech. Of its quality this may be taken as a sample:

"I would, therefore, say to every man in South Carolina who has not been disfranchised, that as soon as the proper order has been issued he should proceed to register and prepare to vote for the best man that can be selected to form a constitution under which we and our posterity can live. It is your interest, further, that the black man shall vote with you in the common election. I have heard a good deal said of controlling the vote of the black man. It has been supposed that his vote will be controlled by personal influences, notwithstanding his convictions of interest, but you are mistaken. That vote is destined to be controlled, not by personal considerations, but by going to the black man and talking to him in private conversation, and proving to him that his interest in South Carolina is your interest; that the white man's interest is the black man's interest."

This is good common sense. If the leading white men of South Carolina will only accept these inculcations, and follow them out, a new era will dawn upon that commonwealth. The "white man's interest is the black man's interest." Nothing can be plainer. And the converse of the proposition is equally true, that the "black man's interest is the white man's interest." This is not the result of new relations between the whites and blacks, superinduced by the Emancipation Proclamation and the Military Government Act; but grows out of their co-existence in the same geographical limits. The welfare of the two races was always inter-dependent, though the whites obstinately ignored the fact, even while the blight of slavery was as conspicuous as the light of the sun at noon-day.

THE GENERALS who led the rebel armies during the war know they were conquered and the cause they represented lost. They know, moreover, that having taken up arms against the government, and been hopelessly defeated, they have no political rights except such as the conquerors in their magnanimity may allow. This they do not hesitate on all proper occasions to say. Hence they advise the prompt acceptance of such conditions of Reconstruction as Congress has seen fit to impose. Herein they differ essentially from certain classes of politicians, north and south, who are splitting hairs about the Constitutional rights of men who have clearly forfeited all they ever possessed. Of Gen. Robt. E. Lee, Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, Gen. G. T. V. Beauregard, Lieut.-Gen. James Longstreet, Lieut.-Gen. Wade Hampton, Major-Gen. Mahone, Major-Gen. Ethel Barksdale, Maj.-Gen. —— Chalmers, the Georgia Constitutionalist says: "Their genius for solving vexed questions of state is not in the highest condition of intellectual health or ingenuity." This means they are not tricksters and quibblers; but understanding what they staked when they took up arms, have not impudence enough to claim in defeat the prerogatives of victory.

THE Republican State Committee has been notified to meet at Harrisburg on Tuesday, the 9th instant, to determine when the next State Convention shall be held, and to consult upon the general welfare of the party. We beg it to consider that last year the party was, in the most formal and authorized manner, pledged to enact a proper Free Railroad Law, and that this pledge has been shamefully violated. How is it proposed to heal this breach of faith?

THE Legislature of Ohio has sent to the people for decision, at the election next October, an Amendment to the Constitution, so as to make black men voters, and to disfranchise deserters. It required the concurrence of three-fifths of the members of the Legislature to do this deed, and yet it was done.

REVIVAL INCIDENTS.

The progressive steps of the age are as marked in the movements of Christianity as in any other department. This fact is demonstrated beyond a question, because it is so clearly manifested in every possible form. Christianity, in her great mission, uses instrumentalities akin to those employed by the world in working its great system. In these days of revival power, the mode of operations differs somewhat from those of former years, there being a greater relaxation from the rigid and exacting customs of those days than formerly.

The union feeling among the various religious denominations has worked a great change. Questions of minor importance, which used to loom up and trouble the Camp of Israel, are now lost sight of, or kept so far in the background as to not breed disturbance. The same union efforts now so happily conducted were unsuccessful in other years, but time has worn away the obstacles, and harmony prevails in a very marked degree. It is surprising, the field of labor which has been opened to laymen in these latter days, and the grand success attained by their co operation with the ministry. The bar of separation between the pulpit and the pew is lessening every day, and soon will be a thing of the past. By the liberal use of this lay power, there has been embodied into many departments of church labor, such as the social prayer meeting and Sunday School, the sharp culture of commercial tactics, promptness, and variety. Old forms have vanished, showing also the adaptation of Christianity to the wants of the age. Now, long wearisome prayers are not tolerated; addresses of the metaphysical cast are discarded, and singing of the nasal style is laid aside. Addresses must now be crispy, practical, pointed, and evangelical; prayers simple, direct, earnest and loving, and singing must have the ring of melody of the most popular cast, embodying too, words adapted to, and which will, burn like fire. These reflections serve to introduce some incidents which have occurred during the great awakening in this city and neighborhood.

The training young men are now receiving in the various churches is developing rich fruitage. Many young men whose talents have heretofore been hidden away in a napkin, are now in active, vigorous exercise, under the progressive regimen of these millennial days, not only for the good of the public in general, but for the upbuilding of the respective churches with which they hold church fellowship. This labor is seen, especially in the Sunday School mission work, and in the social prayer meeting. Of late, some of the pastors have given up the charge of a meeting at times wholly into their hands, taking his seat with the people. By this means latent power has been developed. Instances are at hand where the social week-night services, for a season, have been conducted wholly by the young men, in consequence of the absence or ill health of their pastor. And it is but just to say the result has been highly favorable, not only for the respective congregations, but of much substantial benefit to the young men themselves.

An unusual incident took place some days since, in which was developed an element of union feeling, which is as remarkable as it has been rare heretofore. Two or three persons who had been awakened and converted in a church, whose usage is to execute the ordinance of Baptism by sprinkling or pouring, out of respect for their conscientious views, in regard to the mode of fulfilling this command, were publicly baptized by immersion in the First Baptist Church of this city, the pastor of the Presbyterian church preceding the ordinance with a sermon. This union fellowship by two denominations, with views dissimilar upon a doctrine of this kind, it is presumed does not compromise the peculiar tenets of either sect, by the prostration to the ground of exclusive dogmas. While the Presbyterian polity recognizes any mode as Scriptural, though custom dictates a particular and preferred one, we suppose their liberality does not recognize that the Baptist mode is the essential and only scriptural way. On the other hand, we are justified in believing that this act of brotherly union does not convey the view of our Baptist friends as ignoring other modes of Baptism as invalid, or expressing close communion views. Within a brief time a young man of Catholic education, an honored member of an old Catholic family, has been recently received into a Protestant church, without being required to ignore his baptismal vows of childhood in the Papal church. This is a species of liberality which challenges the adherents of Rome, or any other body holding similar views. Verily, the world moves!

The unusual revival power prevailing in these cities and neighborhood has brought out the work of the good Spirit, by the use of instrumentalities not usually regarded as the most potent. While an educated ministry is desirable, indeed absolutely necessary, at the same time, God sees proper sometimes to use the uneducated in carrying forward his work. An evidence is at hand: A revival of unusual power broke out at a locality, in close proximity to this city, in the bounds of a charge where the pastor was unable to give but little attention, owing to the calls of duty at another point. The necessity of the occasion brought into service the labor of two zealous men, a blacksmith and a miner, under whose conduct the meeting was carried on, and we believe is still in progress, with great zeal and power. God has owned these instrumentalities, uneducated and unrefined as they are, with abundant success, and many souls have been powerfully awakened and converted. The topic is worthy of enlargement but we forbear for the present.

THE Board of Commerce of New York have wisely advised the Secretary of the Treasury to continue the policy of contraction until specie payments shall be reached. The inflationists have had their day, and will soon be among the most eager to get deliverance from uncertainty and doubt by fairly touching bottom.

THE New York Republican State Committee has declared in favor of "impartial suffrage," at the North as well as at the South.

THE government of Japan has had filled at San Francisco, an order for $10,000 worth of leather for army use.

THE Legislature of Ohio has sent to the people for decision, at the election next October, an Amendment to the Constitution, so as to make black men voters, and to disfranchise deserters. It required the concurrence of three-fifths of the members of the Legislature to do this deed, and yet it was done.

For the non-delivery of a telegram, Moses Strasberger obtained a verdict for $686.55 against the Western Union Telegraph Company, in the Superior Court of New York. The defense set up was that a storm had prostrated the wires, thus preventing the forwarding of the dispatch.

At the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad depot, in Cincinnati, yesterday, a Mr. King was robbed of $3,800.

The Warsaw, Indiana, Murder—The Assassin and His Crime.

Lawrence Hart, of Warsaw, Indiana, arrested near Mount Vernon, Ohio, last Friday, was taken back to Warsaw, Indiana, whence he had fled after the perpetration of one of the most frightful acts of brutality on record.

About six weeks ago, Lawrence Hart took from the poor house, at Warsaw, a boy four years old, named Winfield Hines. Three weeks afterward the child was missing. Its mother made inquiry as to what had become of it, and was told that it had been given away to a man living in Ohio. Not satisfied with this, she succeeded in interesting some prominent citizens in the matter, who began to make an investigation, whereupon, Hart having fled, after a long search the mangled body of the child was found in an old well. At the Coroner's inquest, Hart's wife and others testified that, from the very first, Hart's treatment of the child was brutal and cruel in the extreme; that he whipped and beat it without mercy almost, if not quite, every day, and that on one occasion he spent nearly a whole day in torturing it in every way the most hellish wantonness could suggest, first whipping it with a leather strap, then with a strip of board, until it was not able to walk, and then put it down in the cellar, where it laid down in the damp and chilly air and went to sleep. Then he took the poor child from the cellar and plunged its head into cold water, and compelled it to remain out of doors until its feet were frozen. He then took it into the house, hung it up by the stairway, by means of a strap passed around the body, and held coals of fire on a shovel under its feet. After torturing it in this manner for a while, he took it down and made it walk the floor backward and forward, occasionally lashing it with a leather horse-whip, until it fell at last, exhausted and senseless, on the floor.

It further appeared that the day the child died, Hart whipped it first out of doors with a stick of some kind, until it was so exhausted that it fell asleep at the table while they were eating breakfast. Upon this Hart flew into a rage, said, "D——n you, I will see if I can't keep you awake," and thereupon seized a horsewhip and whipped the child for some time, and finally struck it a severe blow on the temple, either with his fist or the butt of the whip, and knocked its head against a stairway, causing two more severe bruises on the back part of its head.

He then allowed his wife to put the child to bed, and she states that she tried to restore it, but it died that night, when Hart took the body away.

Resignation of Gen. Rosecrans.

We find the following statement in the Catholic Telegraph:

"Some two months since General Rosecrans' resignation was received by the authorities in Washington, and not, as a special to some of our dailies says, two weeks ago. Nor, as that special asserts, did his brother, Bishop Rosecrans, write to the President asking a suspension of his decision; but he wrote a private letter to Mr. Johnson, asking that he refuse to accept General Rosecrans' resignation, on the ground that his services and sacrifices in the cause of his country merited a high position in the army for life. But Gen. Grant, who so shamefully betrayed him at the battle of Iuka, and maligned him after the second battle of Corinth, was not well pleased to have the opportunity of ridding himself of so able, and therefore dangerous a rival, to refuse to accept the resignation of Gen. Rosecrans. And in thus gratifying his own personal desires he conferred a favor on Gen. Rosecrans, who could not be prevailed upon by the persuasions and remonstrances of his friends to recall his resignation.

"The General and his son are now engaged in extensive and successful mining operations on the Pacific coast."

HEAR REASON!

STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES.

When a garrison apprehends an attack from an outside enemy, what does it do? It STRENGTHENS THE DEFENCES. The human system, at this season of the year, is beleaguered by morbid influences. The atmosphere is full of them. Every change of weather lays the feeble open to their attacks. What is to be done in order to be like those unseen, but ever active, foes? STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES. Do you ask how? The answer is simply—the means within the reach of all: Reinforce the vital organs and the nervous system with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Tone the stomach, regulate the bowels, rouse the sluggish liver, cheer the spirits, enrich and purify the vital current, with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. That's the way to STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES, and render the capital of health impregnable. If you wish to escape bilious head-ache, intermittent fever, indigestion, and nervous visitations—to enjoy, in all its plenitude, the blessing of "a sound mind in a sound body," use this incomparable preventive and restorative. It preserves health in the healthy, and renews it in the weak and ailing.

PINUS ABIES, OR CANADA PINE.

There exudes from the inside bark of the White Pine, which grows abundantly in all the Eastern States and Canada a honey-like, sweet substance, highly impregnated with that healing balsamic principle which has long been valued as a remedy, in various diseases of the human body, especially those of the mucuous tissues. Dr. G. W. Sweet, of Boston, has compounded from this material a medicine called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which has met with great favor in those maladies where the turpentines and balsams are supposed to be valuable.

For Gravel's Affections.
Diabetes in young or middle aged people.
Diabetes in old people.
Stoppage of the urine.

The same difficulty in children during the night.

Gravel, Kidney Trouble in old people.

Bright's Disease of the Kidneys.

Poland's White Pine Compound will be found speedy and permanent cure. It is no less to be valued as a general and bracing constitutional tonic, which imparts its health-giving principles to all the tissues of the body, without sickening or weakening the system in any way, or disturbing any of the vital functions.

COURT REPORTS.

Oyer and Terminer.

Before Hon. James P. Sterrett.

This Court met on Friday, at the usual hour, ten o'clock.

THE HALL-DELANEY CASE.

In the case of David E. and George Hall, indicted for felonious assault and battery, and malicious mayhem, on oath of Peter Delaney, the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty of mayhem," and as to the other charge, "felonious assault and battery," they found defendants "not guilty of the felony charged, but guilty of a misdemeanor in unlawfully cutting and wounding the prosecutor, Peter Delaney." In the indictment charging mayhem, the defendants were ordered to pay the costs. A motion for a new trial was entered.

JOHN LUTZ ON TRIAL FOR BARRATRY.

As we stated it would be, the case of the Common wealth vs. John Lutz, indicted as a common barrator, was taken up. The prosecutor is Conrad Eberhardt, tavern keeper, of Reserve township. The indictment charges the offense in terms, that the defendant brought a number of vexatious suits against tavern keepers for the purpose of private gain, whilst acting as a deputized constable, doing business for Aldermen Humbert and Donaldson, in the First and Fourth wards, of Pittsburgh. Mr. Swartzweider appeared as counsel for the prosecution, with Col. Duff, (District Attorney,) A. G. Cochran, and Jacob Whitesell, Esqs., and Gen. F. H. Collier and Jacob H. Miller, Esq., for the defense.

Alderman Donaldson was called and testified in substance: October 1st, 1866, Lutz made an information against William Berger for illegal liquor selling; a warrant was issued, and the defendant had been duly charged, of which no record was taken; Berger had been discharged, because no witnesses appeared against him; could not state why the witnesses did not appear. Constable John Sarber had the warrant for Berger.

Philip Beilstein, tavern keeper, of Allegheny, testified that he had a conversation with Lutz about the Berger case; went with Jacob Whitesell, Esq., to Alderman Donaldson's office, but Lutz was not there; next day saw Lutz in the "back room" of the Alderman's office, and paid him twenty-five dollars to settle the case

George Schmidt, also a tavern keeper, testified that he was arrested in December last, by officer John Sarber, for selling liquor. Sarber told witness he must go to Donaldson's office, and all witness said is he would be there in an hour. Alderman Donaldson told him he had better settle the case, or that Prosecuting Attorney would make him pay more. He saw Lutz after a while, and he said he would fix it if witness would pay him thirty dollars. He came back in the evening and paid Lutz thirty dollars "in the back room." Lutz talked with the Alderman, and then told Sarber his business that he could go home—that he (the Alderman) would call the case up in the evening, and he (Lutz) would keep the witnesses away.

Alderman Donaldson was re-called, and, examining his docket, (produced) testified that he could find no entry of Berger's case. The party had been discharged, but there was no record of it. He stated that Lutz paid him no money in the Berger case. He had no docket entry of Geo. Schmidt's case. The informations were never sent up. He also had an information against Mr. Jones, dated November 10th, 1866, for selling liquor on Sunday. He had no docket entry in the case.

Mr. Jones was called and testified that he had paid the Alderman eighty dollars for settling two cases against him. The informations were made by Lutz. The Alderman declined giving a receipt for the money, but told him (Jones) that he would "scrape the cases off his docket."

Alderman Donaldson again took the stand. He stated that he had no information against Peter Wacker, but that one against J. P. Wacker, made by officer John Sarber, Nov. 5th, for selling liquor. There was no docket entry of Wacker's case. He appeared and was discharged for want of witnesses. An information was made by Lutz, Nov. 20th, against George Gossenschmidt. He was discharged, also for want of witnesses. No docket entry. The Alderman further testified that he had an information against WATSON, on the 20th of January 11th, 1867. He was discharged for want of witnesses. No docket entry. Also had an information against Joseph Burkestein, made by Lutz, July 20th, 1866. The fine in this case was marked paid. Receipt of fine marked, signed by John Lutz. Another information against Dierstein, dated Dec., 5th, 1866. Hearing had, and case continued until January. The fine was marked "paid" on the information, but no money had ever been received. He promized to pay but failed to do so. Also had an information against Adam Glosser, made Nov. 5th, 1866. Docket entry marked "fine and costs paid." Two other informations against Wm. Einstein were sent to Court. They were dated Nov. 11th and 29th. These informations were never acted on, being held over until next term. Also had a docket entry against Adam Glosser, who paid his fine and was discharged. Diersein pleaded guilty, paid his fine, and was discharged.

William Einstein testified that he was prosecuted for selling liquor on Sunday; was arrested by officer Sarber; and asked him what the costs would be; he replied fifty dollars; witness promised to raise the money the day or two after. Sarber came for him a second time, he told witness that he had another charge against him, but that fifty dollars would settle both cases. He (witness) went to Alderman Donaldson's office, and paid Lutz sixty dollars, "in the little back room." They agreed to have a hearing in the case next morning; (Lutz first suggesting eight o'clock that evening.) Witness appeared at the time fixed, nine o'clock. The Alderman said: "Are you ready for a hearing?" Witness said he was. He then asked Lutz if he had his witnesses ready; Lutz said he had not. The Alderman asked "who is to pay the costs?" Lutz replied "that's all right." Sarber had a commitment for witness, but after a conversation with Lutz, it was agreed to let the commitment go. The witness was then discharged, but was subsequently arrested and held to bail for Court on another charge.

George Sheibly was called and corroborated Einstein's statement as to the payment of money to Lutz "in the little back office." The Alderman was not present when the money was paid.

Joseph Dierstein testified that he was arrested by constable John Sarber in July last, in the evening, on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. Asked if he could not give bail until the next day, but was told that he could not, that he must come right away. Alderman Donaldson had left his office, and Sarber went to the Alderman's house and woke him up. Lutz was at the office. The Alderman came to the office, and told witness he must pay $50 dollars or go to jail, witness paid this amount. Lutz then said to witness, "Mr. Cluley (Sheriff) wanted to see you." Went with him up to the Court House, and was put into jail, although he (witness) was under bail. Had just returned from New York. Got out of jail next morning. Was again arrested by Sarber, in December last, and again paid $55 to Alderman Donaldson.

Joseph Lofink testified that he was arrested on an information made by Lutz for selling liquor on Sunday. When present for a hearing Lutz could not prove the charge, and the accused was discharged, Alderman Donaldson stating that Lutz would have to pay the costs. Witness paid no money in that case.

George Gossenschmidt next testified that he was arrested for illegal liquor selling and taken to Alderman Donaldson's office. Lutz at first asked fifty dollars, but witness asked him if he could not do it cheaper. Lutz agreed to take $25 and the costs (five dollars). The money was paid in "the little back room" in Alderman Donaldson's office.

Adam Glosser was also arrested by Lutz for selling liquor, and paid fifty-four dollars and some cents to Alderman Donaldson; was not returned to court.

Alderman Humbert was next called, producing his docket and other records. He testified that Matthew Zirhut, Peter Richner and Jacob Lang were prosecuted before him by Lutz. The docket entries were all regular and square. Lang was returned to court, tried and acquitted, and the others paid the civil penalty of $50, which was divided between the informer and Poor Guardians.

Theodore Beilstein testified that he did not receive any money from Lutz in the case of Lang.

Mr. Swartzweider, upon the principle that a "common barrator," like a "common scold," was a "common nuisance," offered to adduce evidence that a variety of suits were pending against the accused for barratry. The offer was overruled, the law requiring notice to be given of such matters as were proposed to be given in evidence, which did not appear to have been done.

The Commonwealth having closed, Gen. Collier, for defense, desired to cross-examine the prosecutor, Mr. Eberhardt, which right was conceded, Mr. E. having been before the grand jury as a witness.

Mr. Eberhardt was asked whether he and other tavern-keepers had not contributed a fund and entered into an arrangement to prosecute Lutz, and was cautioned that he might answer or refuse to answer as he might elect. He did not refuse and his reply was in the negative.

The case was not concluded at adjournment, and will not be resumed till Monday morning.

District Court.

Before Hon. H. W. Williams.

Wm. M. Moffitt vs. Olmstead & O'Connor. Before reported. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $900.66.

City of Pittsburgh for use vs. William Ward. The verdict found in this case was as follows: That the plaintiff, under the act of Assembly and ordinances of the city, given in evidence, caused the sidewalk to be repaired and recurbed in front of defendant's property, and that the expense thereof amounted to the sum stated in the claim upon which the sci. fa. in this case was issued; and the jury further find that the defendant's pavement was in miserable order before and up to the time when the gutter alongside thereof was washed out, causing the curbstone and pavement to be undermined and to give away, and that the negligence of the plaintiff and the passenger railway company, in not keeping the said gutter in good repair, was the cause of defendant's pavement becoming out of repair, but the jury are not advised whether the plaintiff's negligence in this respect constitutes a good and valid defense in law to the claim in this case; therefore, they pray the opinion of the Court, and if the Court shall be of the opinion that the plaintiff's negligence as aforesaid constitutes a good defense to the said claim, then the jury find for the defendant; but if the Court shall be of the opinion that the negligence of the said plaintiff constitutes no defense to the said claim, then we find for the plaintiff to the sum of $97.33.

Dr. Geo. S. Foster vs. Dr. C. M. Dake. Action for the recovery of a balance of salary claimed to be due plaintiff for services as assistant to defendant in the practice of his profession. The amount involved is about $300. On trial.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 5, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. H. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 133⅝; Eighty-one bonds, 109½; Five Twenties, old, 109½; Five Twenties, '64, 107½; do, '65, 107½; do, new, 106¾; Seven Thirties, 105¾; Michigan Southern Railroad, 71; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 76¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 93¼; Erie, 59¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 99½; Chicago and Northwestern, 34½; preferred, 62¾; New York Central, 109½; Reading, 101¾.

—The Baltimore Sun of Thursday says: It is with general regret that the business community receive the announcement of the suspension of the banking and stock house of Purvis & Co., of this city. Their suspension is caused by recent losses, which it is understood, were chiefly in New York. They have made a deed of trust for the benefit of all their creditors, without preference or distinction, and the trustee, speaking on such judgment as he could form from a hasty examination, confirms the hope of the senior partner that every dollar of indebtedness will be paid.

—The whole line of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, from the Erie terminus to Cleveland and Cincinnati, is now in the hands on a receiver—Robert R. Porter—an order of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, made on Saturday last, having been made to the same effect as those previously issued by the courts of New York and Ohio. The receiver is required to take all the lines, to give security in $100,000 for the faithful performances of his duties, and out of the net earnings of the line to first pay the interest upon the prior or divisional mortgages on the line, and then upon the consolidated mortgage.

—San Francisco advices, dated March 9th, state that business is accumulating in all the city reserves. Bank loans are easily obtained at 12@1½ per cent per month, while upon real estate and other unexceptionable gilt-edge securities large sums can be procured on even more favorable terms. This superabundance of capital at the present time, when interior communications are and have long been entirely suspended, is natural enough, and can be easily accounted for as the natural accumulations from the large amount of wheat marketed by our farmers—the proceeds in very many instances now lying idle upon deposit in the various banking institutions of the city. It is estimated that the yield of the wheat crop to date will be 2,000,000 bushels, amounts to $5,000,000. Of this large sum about $3,000,000 has been exported. Real estate operations continue to be of considerable importance. Auction sales are frequent, and in desirable localities large prices are obtained both for improved and unimproved property.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 5, 1867.

The produce markets were rather dull today, there being less activity manifested in most of the leading commodities, though, nevertheless, there was a fair volume of business in the aggregate. So far, however as values are concerned, there are no changes, one way or the other, worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm and in limited supply but unchanged. Oats firm with sales at 55 to 57, on track, and 5 to 60, in small lots. Corn is in good demand and higher—prime shelled may be quoted at 85 to 90; sale of 1 car shelled and 1500 bush car on private terms. Rye is in demand at $1.45—sale of 200 bush on private terms. Barley is in demand, and prime Spring may be quoted firm at $1.75.

FLOUR is firm but less excited and unchanged. Out of our leading houses reports having sold 200 bbls, in lots, at $14 to $14.50 for spring, and $14.50 to $15.50 for Winter Wheat. Fancy brands $17 to $18.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm with a steady inquiring demand at 16 for Sugar Cures; 12 for Ribbed Sides; 13 for Clear Sides; 16 to 17 for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; and 17 for Canvassed. Lard is selling at 13 to 13½, and Mess Pork at $23.50. Sale of 30 kegs country Lard at 12½.

SEEDS—There is a very good local demand for Clover seed, and we can report sales in store at $9 to $10.50. Flaxseed sold to-day at $2, though cruisers are asking for it readily $2.10 to $2.15. Timothy seed is quiet at $3.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged. Sales of prime to strictly choice at 39@40. Common Butter is plenty and dull.

EGGS—In better demand, and under the influence of diminished receipts, prices have advanced to 22@23.

POTATOES—Peach Blows are selling in store at 45 up to $1.50. Sale of 30 bbls Buckeyes at $1 per bbl.

GREEN APPLES—Prime to choice Apples are scarce and in most demand, and we continue to quote at $5 to $6 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull. Peaches are offered in quarters for sale at 6 cents and 15 for halves. Apples quiet and unchanged.

HAY—Prime Timothy may be in demand, with sales at 26 cents for 100 lbs, or $52 per ton; do $47.50, and there were sales on wharfat $20 to $21.

OIL—Lard Oil is reported firm at 90 for No. 2, and $1.10 for No. 1.

ASHES—No change except in Pearls, which are tending upward. Demand moderate.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 5, 1867.

The market was again moderately active to-day, the reported sales reaching between ten and eleven thousand barrels, and prices are steady, though unchanged. Sales of 2000 for May and June, sellers option, at 7; 2000 and 3000 bbls, on private terms; 177 bbls at 6½, bbls returned; 100 bbls (heavy gravity) at 7¾, and 3000 bbls at $2.50, delivered here. Oil City stock considered equivalent to 6¾, and in the present condition of the market, may be regarded as a good purchase. Quotations for crude and refined fairly unchanged at 25½ to 26 in bulk and bbls returned, and 11¾ to 12 bbls included, according to gravity. We have no late advices from the Petroleum region in regard to the oil trade, as a good many orders, but refiners do not seem inclined to sell at present prices, preferring rather to hold back in anticipation of better market and better prices. Free Oil is dull but unchanged—40 cents for round bbls, and 45 to 50 in small ways.

Arrivals and Shipments—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Fisher & Bro..... 3627 | Mawhinney & Co 1?3
Shenard, Jr. & Co..... 2?0 | P. Logan..... 2?0
Miller & Co..... 800 | H. D. Cochran.... 2?0

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 5, 1867.

The transactions in metal have again been light this week, though we are disposed to believe that there were a number of sales effected, which, for reasons best known to themselves, the parties interested declined to report. The hard expectation that a healthful and extensive renewal and resumption of business by the mills have not, we are sorry to say, been realized, and the prospects for an early settlement of the difficulties between the mill owners and puddlers are about as remote as ever. There is a steadily improved demand for foundry iron, and several small sales were made this week, and Blooms, also, are more active, though unchanged. We can report a sale of 80 tons stock Bar Iron at $70, cash, and 50 tons No. 1 Juniata Blooms at $110, 4 mos. It is said that there have been offers made for the exact No. 1 Stock Bar at $70 to $71, which is from $5 to $6 per ton below what Pittsburgh brokers are selling at.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, April 3—The fresh receipts of beef cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 1?5 head. Entered sales, 1?50, head, at prices ranging from $4 to $7 for good to choice fat cattle; cows sold from $?.50@8 for good to choice shipping steers. An extra choice lot, fed by H. Page, of Kewanee Henry county, in this county, were sold at 40 to Wardell & Reineman. They are one of the finest lots we have seen for some time, and must not be taken as a criterion of the general market values.

The market was fairly active at the opening at about yesterday's prices, but one it belongs to a combination that cars could not be had on the Michigan Central at the reduced tariff, there was quite a commotion among buyers, as the officers of eastern roads refused to accept less than the old tariff—55c per 100 lbs to Pittsburgh and Buffalo. As the close whipers are all holding off, and if the reduction in freights is maintained, the advance in prices for stock which has been paid during the past three days will be lost.

Baltimore Market.

BALTIMORE, April 5—Flour, extra State in improved demand; sales of 200 bbls extra Ohio at $13.50@13.?5 and Howard street superfine $12. Wheat unchanged; sales of red at $1.?6; $1.?8@1.?9 for good to fair and prime. Corn, sales of white at $ 1.?2@1.?5; yellow at 1.?3@1.?5. Oats, 59@?2. Whisky, in bond, 20@?2. Mess pork, $?4 for prime. Provisions unchanged.
